

Nashville Business Journal

BUSINESS PULSE SURVEY: Would you rather work for a small or large company? Why?

Nashville company upgrades Browns stadium

Nashville Business Journal - June 28, 2006

Durrell Sports Audio Management is installing a $2.1 million audio system in the Cleveland Browns Stadium in Cleveland.

The professional sports stadium sound management company will complete work on the state-of-the-art distributed public address system by July 5. The project includes the removal of 395 speakers, 75 amplifiers and multiple processing devices and the installation of more than 440 loudspeakers, 120 amplifiers and a new processing and amplifier control system.

Durrell, located in Nashville, currently has contracts with the Tennessee Titans, Cincinnati Bengals, Kansas City Chiefs and Kansas City Royals, among others.

Contact the Editor

Need Assistance?

More Latest News →

Subscribe or renew online

All contents of this site © American City Business Journals Inc. All rights reserved.